U. S. Forces Turn Back Massive Red Assault

BRITON IS NEW CHAIRMAN OF U. N. COUNCIL Address of Truman Tonight Is Described By the White House As "A Report to the People"

Sir Gladwyn Jebb Takes Over as President Determined to End Malik's Stalemate

TO SEAT SOUTH KOREA

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Lake Success, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb takes over as president of the United Nations Security Council today, determined to end Russian Jakob A. Malik's month-long stalemate of pending U. S. Council moves to localize the Korean war.

A spokesman quoted Jebb as saying:

"We shall turn the calendar back to July 31. We shall pretend that Malik has never been president and get on with our work."

At today's council meeting Jebb reportedly planned as the first order of business the seating of a representative of South Korea and the refusal of a place to a North Korean envoy.

Malik had, through one parliamentary move or another, prevented this action while he held the presidency during August.

Then, the British spokesman declared, the Council would take up an American resolution declaring the North Koreans to be the aggressors and calling on all U. N. members to refrain from aiding them.

"The Soviet Union will probably veto this, and then we shall go on to our next piece of business," he said.

That would be consideration of Red China's charges, presented by the Soviet Union, of American aggression against Formosa and air raids on Manchuria. The council voted yesterday, 8-5, to hear the air raid charges.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin took the Council by surprise yesterday by admitting an American fighter plane might have strayed a Manchurian air field by mistake Aug. 27.

He asked for a full U. N. on-the-spot investigation of the charges and promised, if they were proved, that the U. S. would pay an indemnity and take "proper disciplinary action" against those involved.

When the delegates got their breath after this statement—much franker than is usual in diplomatic parleys—they speculated that the United States may have pulled off a significant diplomatic coup.

They pointed out that it is highly unlikely that either Communist China or North Korea will permit a United Nations investigating committee to come into their territories.

If they refuse, these sources said, the world will conclude that either the charges were frivolous propaganda or that the two Communist states have secret reasons for refusing an inquiry.

Austin's big speech of the afternoon, which he climaxed with the admission that an American plane might have strayed a Manchurian air field gripped the jammed chamber as few orations have.

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—President Truman tonight will tell the nation—and the world—that the United States had no alternative when it sent its troops into Korea.

He ordered this step, the president is expected to say, in the interests of world peace.

Mr. Truman speaks from the White House at ten p. m. over all the major radio networks and television.

His address is described by the White House as a "report to the people."

Those familiar with the text say that it is just as much a report to the peoples of western Europe, Asia and elsewhere where Mr. Truman hopes American foreign policy will be heard and understood.

The "Voice of America" will beam it everywhere it can reach a listening audience.

Associates told a reporter Mr. Truman will say he had to move quickly when the North Korean Reds invaded South Korea to draw a line somewhere against the steady advance of Communism against peaceful countries.

Something had to be done, Mr. Truman is expected to say, lest Communism nibble off other nations one by one.

The address is reported to be in the nature of an answer to the propaganda of Jakob Malik, the Soviet Russian delegate, during his month as president of the U. N. Security Council.

Malik's term as president ended yesterday and the president's reply was said to be timed to counter it quickly. Malik labeled the U. S. over and over as aggressors for sending troops to Korea and for dispatching the Seventh Fleet off Formosa.

There is nothing basically new in Mr. Truman's address tonight, White House sources said.

The speech was described as an attempt to sum up in one speech some of the replies to letters from all over the country expressing concern over the Korean war.

Ashe Steps Down As Superintendent At Rockview Prison

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Stanley P. Ashe, a penologist with the soft speech of an educator, went into retirement today after 20 years as boss of sprawling Western Penitentiary and the big Rockview prison at Bellefonte.

Ashe stepped out of office last night almost as quietly as he assumed his duties in 1924. He simply handed over his keys to his successor, Dr. W. J. Claudy, and went home for a family dinner.

Dr. Claudy has been superintendent at Rockview prison under Warden Ashe. He will be succeeded at Rockview by Theodore Reiber, currently a member of the state board of parole.

Ashe, who said he "sort of stumbled into prison work," left his job as warden of nearly 2,000 prisoners with a reputation as one of the country's top penologists.

He had taught high school and had been superintendent of the Connellsville school system when he was given the job of warden in 1924.

He didn't quit being a schoolmaster. His prisoners got the reputation of being book worms because the warden required every one of them to finish the equivalent of them to finish the equivalent.

Men Between Ages of 26 and 50 Will Be Recruited To Fill Ranks of State Guard

Harrisburg, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Men between the ages of 26 and 50—World War Two veterans preferred—will be recruited to fill the ranks of the Pennsylvania State Guard.

Maj. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general, said today the recruiting will be done as units of the Pennsylvania National Guard depart for active federal service.

The State Guard, reactivated for the first time since 1947, will replace the PNG as the commonwealth's home front defense organization.

The 26- to - 50 range for enlistments will not be rigid, Gen. Weber said. Exception will be made in lower ages if the particular recruit is reasonably certain of not being subject to selective service induction.

In a statement of policy prepared for regimental commanders, Gen. Weber said all enlistments generally should be made in the grade of private, with a view to making selected promotions.

Promotions, he said, would be based on civil and military experience when the tables of organization are established.

Each of the State Guard's four infantry regiments will be composed of a headquarters and headquarters company, service company, medical company, band, three battalion headquarters and headquarters detachments, and 12 rifle companies.

Applications for enlistment may be made now, Gen. Weber said, but they will be on a temporary form. These forms, he explained, will be held at regimental headquarters until the units are officially organized.

Weber said he has contacted the U. S. Second Army concerning priority of uniforms and equipment. He added that the commonwealth can provide many items if supplies from the army are delayed.

RAINY WEATHER AFTERMATH—Traffic along the River road (Route 59) was disrupted today by a number of slides and washouts in the wake of an all night downpour. The section of the highway shown here, near Big Bend, is partially blocked by a washout and a big lake of muddy water. Highway department crews moved in big dozers and graders to clear the debris, and one-way traffic was in effect through the section throughout the morning. (Times-Mirror Photo.)

Okay On GI Family Allowances Paves Way For Drafting of Fathers Up To 26

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A final okay from congress on GI family allowances paved the way today for drafting fathers up to 26 years old into the armed forces.

Selective Service officials had indicated they would have something to say on plans for inducing draft-age married men with dependents as soon as the family allowances bill passed congress.

Both the house and senate gave final approval yesterday to the allowances measure, sending it to President Truman for signature.

It provides sums of $85 to $165 a month for the families of enlisted men. GI's would contribute from $40 to $80 a month toward the allowances from their own pay. The government would pay the rest.

That married men with dependents would be drafted soon was predicted by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee. He said draft boards simply can't meet quotas without taking fathers.

Vinson spoke out shortly after the house approved the family allowances bill, saying:

"This means that selective service can now broaden its calls to include men with children who are within the draft age. That is the purpose of the act to make financial provision for the families of such men."

Officials estimated there are 1,000,000 married non-veterans of draft age 19 through 25 and that up to 400,000 would qualify for induction.

That's applying the rough ratio supplied by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, that 60 per cent of draft eligibles are being rejected because of failure to meet rigid service physical and mental standards.

Hershey has criticized these armed force standards as far too stringent under present manpower needs.

The allowances for GI dependents are estimated to cost $300,000,000 from last Aug. 1 to next June 30.

MORE MONEY FOR F. B. I.
Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—President Truman asked congress today for $8,000,000 for the FBI because of its increased activity due to "the changed international situation". He gave no details of how the money is to be spent—whether for employment of additional agents or how. In the ordinary routine, Mr. Truman makes only a request for the total. Details are supplied to congress later by the budget bureau or the agency for which the appropriation is asked.

The Warren group was comprised of Councilmen R. H. Truster, Manley Overturn, and Robert J. Wilson, Borough Engineer C. W. Barwis, Borough Manager Leslie N. McConnell, Nat. Drake, secretary of Warren Chamber of Commerce, and John Fenstermacher, district manager of the Pennsylvania Electric Company.

Harrisburg, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The 28th Quartermaster Company will be the first unit of Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry to leave for Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The entire division will depart for the midwestern training camp some time after being inducted into federal service Sept. 5.

The division's public information office announced yesterday that the quartermaster company, composed of Harrisburg and Altoona officers and men, will leave for Atterbury "on or about Sept. 5."

The company's job will be to prepare the camp for the remainder of the division. Headquarters in Altoona, the company is commanded by Lt. Col. Albert C. Yount, of Camp Hill.

To Lift Detour On Sheffield Project Saturday Morning

Detour signs on the U. S. route 6 highway between Weldbank and Royalton, a distance of approximately six miles, will be removed early Saturday morning, according to Warren Lowe, county superintendent of highways, and J. Robert Fogo, engineer who has been supervising the reconstruction project.

The contractor, S. J. Groves and Sons, is busy putting in the parallel drainage tile, finishing off the shoulders and slopes and blacktopping of the approaches at Weldbank. Horton avenue, Kane road near the Hague well and in front of the First Methodist church in Sheffield, Everything is to be completed within the next few weeks.

The road between Sugar Grove and Chandlers Valley, a distance of about five miles, has been open for about a week.

Regarding the Starbuck highway improvement job it is expected the contractors will start pouring cement again as soon as the weather is favorable.

FARMERS' PARADE AT SCANDIA LABOR DAY

A Farmers' Parade will be held at Scandia on Monday, Labor Day, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

The parade is being arranged as part of the 20th Annual Elk Township Homecoming.

The celebration gets under way with a program and business meeting at the church in Scandia, starting at 10:30 a. m. At noon, the Mission Church Ladies Aid will serve lunch, and also will sponsor a bazaar.

Following the parade, there will be a sports program, a water battle by the Russell volunteer firemen and a ball game.

VETO STICKS
Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The senate failed yesterday to override President Truman's veto of a bill calling for a pay increase for war veterans in postal service. Senator Martin (R-Pa.) voted to override the president's action while Sen. Myers (D-Pa.) voted to sustain the veto. A majority voted to override but there were not enough votes to make a two-thirds majority.

Fast-Moving Yank Tanks And Infantrymen Recapture Haman On Anchor of U. N. Beachhead

By The Associated Press
Western Front: Reds launch biggest offensive with 50,000 troops against U. S. and South Korean defenses on 50-mile front. U. S. 25th Division counterattacks on southern front, recapturing Haman, which fell to initial Red attack. U. S. Second Division on 25th right flank retards 87 miles before Red Armored drive, abandoning Yongsan, miles from Pusan-Taegu road. Red troops with tanks swarm across Nakdong river.

Northern Front: South Koreans recapture Kigye, nine miles north west of Pohang, and drive a mile north of Pohang against light resistance in area where heavy Red offensive was stopped yesterday.

Air War: Mass Allied air attack hits Red offensive in south, Jol, then fails to top them.

Tokyo: U. S. officers express confidence defenses will hold back new Red offensive, say Americans were ready for it.

Lak Success: Russia ends month term in presidency of Security Council, and under British chairmanship council prepares to app speed in Korean question discussion. U. S. acknowledges possibility American air attack by mistake on Manchurian territory, charges investigation, but Tokyo officers repeat denial of incidents voted by Red China.

Washington: President Truman addresses nation tonight, expected to tell world U. S. had no choice but to defend Korea.

Tokyo, Saturday, Sept. 2.—(AP)—North Korean Reds renewed the hammering assault on the southern ends of the flaming western front Friday night after pushing an 87 mile dent in American lines.

But swiftly moving U. S. tanks and infantrymen recaptured Haman Friday in a slashing counterattack that temporarily blunted the Red's massive assault on the southwestern anchor of the United Nations beachhead in Korea.

The Communists had led a two-division attack at Haman Thursday night, and for a time threatened to crack the American line.

But the U. S. 25th Infantry Division reacted swiftly, lashed back and broke the momentum of the Red assault.

Behind strong air and artillery support, American tanks and troops rolled back Haman and regained ridges west of the city, 35 miles west of the vital Allied supply port of Pusan on the southeast Korean coast.

An American officer at the front said the Communists were making their big effort "and I think it is their last one."

However, an intelligence officer at General MacArthur's headquarters said a second major Red offensive against another section of the beachhead was still possible. He added that the largest mass of enemy infantry still is presumed to be in the Waegan area, northwest of Taegu.

The powerful Red onslaught had set the front afire on a 55-mile stretch from a point on the Nakdong river west of Taegu southward to the sea.

Final Vote on Tax Legislation May Come Next Week

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The administration's $4,508,000,000 tax bill was tangled up with other priority legislation in the senate today, and prospects that it would pass before next week were extremely slim.

Party floor leaders expressed belief the measure could be disposed of with a late session tonight. But Senator George (D-Ga.), in charge of the measure, predicted to newsmen that it would not pass.

He said also the incident caused by his cancellation of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's message on Formosa was closed.

MacArthur contended that the United States ought to see to it that Formosa never falls into hostile hands, a longer range commitment than President Truman made in ordering the fleet to neutralize the island temporarily.

In this connection, Mr. Truman said the settlement of the Formosa question is one to be worked out in a peace treaty between Japan and the Allied Nations which fought her.

This prompted Senators Magnuson (D-Wash.), Chapman (D-Ky.) and Girney (R-SD), all members of the senate armed services committee, to urge that the United States get busy at once on the job of drafting a treaty.

Magnuson told a reporter he thinks this country ought to ignore Russia, write a treaty with Japan in which other non-Communist nations could join and make the foundation for a Pacific defense pact.

He said also the incident caused by his cancellation of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's message on Formosa was closed.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

THE RANGE DOCTOR

Chapter 19
WHITE and tense of face, not daring to see about his companion, Carter worked the heavy express box out from under his feet and awkwardly shoved it overboard. It bounced from the wheel rim and thudded to the ground where one of the robbers quickly grabbed it and hauled it aside to shoot off the locks. The mail sack followed.

With thoroughness and dispatch every passenger was despoiled and stripped of visible jewelry. The loot was gathered up in two canvas sacks. One bandit collected all weapons. Then the passengers were herded back into the coach while a pair of bandits hastily went through the luggage. Carter was forced to kick off the coach top.

The leader never relaxed his vigilance for a second, giving crisp orders now and then as occasion warranted. Then he whistled, and an eighth masked man rode out of the brush with seven spare mounds and a couple of pack animals. The loot was loaded quickly. As a final precaution the leader approached and cut the traces of the coach horses, driving the animals away with a slap of his gun barrel. Then the entire gang mounted and rode southward along the flat top of the ridge.

Not until then could Carter turn his attention to the badly wounded driver while the men passengers got out and rounded up the scattered coach horses. It was after sundown when the despoiled stage rolled into Gila City, the express guard holding the reins and Frank Nichols coughing his life away on a blanket behind him.

Logan had the driver carried into the hotel where he set to work trying to save his life. Nichols had been shot clean through the right lung and narrowly missing the spinal column. The man was unconscious and weak from shock and loss of blood.

The doctor saw that his condition was grave as he cleansed both ends of the ugly hole, staunching the flow of blood, and dressed the wounds. He gave a heart stimulant, a saline injection, and deplored the fact that he had no glucose. Then he put the patient to bed in warm blankets and with hot-water bottles about him. Having done all that he could for the time being, realizing he must wait to see how Nichols came out of the shock, Logan went down to the lobby.

It was late, but he found Griggsby waiting for him with the details of the hold-up.

"I couldn't prod Matlock into doing anything tonight," the editor said, "but we're going out to the scene of the robbery in the morning. How's Nichols?"

"I can't tell yet. If pneumonia doesn't set in, he may have a chance. As soon as I have a bite of food and some coffee I'll go back. I'll have to watch him all night."

Griggsby ate with him, and Logan told him about Nolly Sims and his sister. The editor became thoughtful.

"There may be a connection there of some sort," he said. "I don't doubt that this Holcomb fellow has been hived up at Friole Flats. I must ask Overstreet if he saw him over there."

"You mean a connection with the stage robbery?"

"Maybe. Friole Flats is the closest settlement to the spot."

"But would Holcomb be that brazen?"

"Why not—if his gang is strong enough? The whole thing was pulled mighty smoothly. The spot selected showed knowledge of the driving habits of Nichols. The day chosen was when Farnsworth was receiving a gold shipment. The job shows brains. Lucky that Nichols recognized Holcomb. He'll be a marked man now."

Logan finished his second cup of coffee. Then he voiced a thought in both their minds. "You think Naylor might have had a hand in this business?"

"I don't know, son, but we're going to find out. Killing Charlie Kohner put a crimp in his tail.

We'll talk tomorrow. You try to get a little sleep if you can."

THE stage driver lay in a coma all night. Regularly the doctor checked his pulse and temperature, twice administering hypodermics. Worn out, he finally fell into a doze in his chair at the bedside.

He was aroused by a tapping at the door, and started up to note that it was broad daylight. There was little change in his patient's condition. He opened the door, and Mollie came in.

"Uncle Tom told me you had no nurse, Bob," she said. "Will I do?"

"Mollie, I can't ask you to—" he protested.

"Nonsense! You're all tired out. Just explain what I must do, and then you get some sleep. I want to help. I've known Frank Nichols all my life."

Logan felt a surge of tenderness. Tom Griggsby and Mollie Barton. He didn't know what he could have done without them.

Leaving Mollie at the bedside, Logan snatched an hour's rest. Then, cleaning up and shaving, he looked in on the patient for a moment and went out on his round of calls. Griggsby had gone to the hold-up spot with Matlock, and Logan didn't see him all day.

Thanks to the two girls, he got a few hours' sleep early in the evening and then took up his lonely vigil beside Nichols the last half of the night.

Before dawn Monday morning the stage driver became delirious. He came out of that about sun-up, and his mind cleared.

"Howdy, Doc," he whispered weakly.

Logan checked him again and found his temperature below normal. He gave him a heart stimulant quickly and felt the weak pulse beat step up a little. "Hello, Frank," he greeted. "Feeling better?"

"No use, Doc," Nichols whispered. "I've made my last trip. Four dollars a round trip. Two and six bits one way."

He subsided in a coughing spell, and died without speaking again.

LABOR DAY AT CRITICAL TIME

Labor Day is by tradition a holiday for the man who works for a living. It is dedicated to clambakes, political speeches, picnic, loafing and the torture of bumper-to-bumper traffic bound homeward after the last long weekend of summer.

This year there is a man-made cloud over the holiday such as there has not been since the dark days of 1942. On this Labor Day, 1950, there are no picnics, speeches, clambakes, nor is there any rest for the tired American boys laboring at the deadly business of war.

Yet on the home front, too many of us still are dedicated to business as usual, to working only for ourselves. Not the least of these is the workman for whom we are celebrating today. There are strikes among the railroad workers that have shut down huge steel mills at a time when we must make and move material to build up our defense muscles; there are "demonstrations" that hold up production in a big electric company, where 20 per cent of the output is war work; there are rumblings of battles to come in other vital industries.

Labor is not alone in the home-front offenses. There have been some price rises, since the day the 38th parallel was crossed, that bore the unmistakable stamp of "get it while you can." And the profiteers and percentage boys are migrating again to Washington. But we are talking particularly to labor at this moment because this is labor's day.

In the midst of a crisis that may well involve us for the rest of our lives, it would make sense to rededicate this holiday not to labor as a group of people but to labor as a job. To what the dictionary calls "physical or mental exertion, particularly for some useful or desired end."

The useful and desired end is the security of America.

REVISED SOCIAL SECURITY LAW

The expanded social security law now on the books is a milestone in more ways than one. It's probably President Truman's most important victory in the social welfare field. And it may well be the last for quite a while, unless the outlook for real peace is unexpectedly brightened.

From the time he took office in 1945 until after he was elected in 1948, the president had pretty poor luck with his programs in congress. Last year he did score with major housing legislation and a new, higher minimum wage law.

But revision of social security stands out above these. The changes add 10 million people to the federal pension rolls, including 4,600,000 self-employed, 1,400,000 state and local government workers not covered by public retirement plans, 650,000 hired farm workers and a sizable number of domestic employees.

Altogether now some 45 million people—three-fourths of the gainfully employed—are under federal social security. Adding in the 7,500,000 protected by public retirement systems raises the percentage to 85 per cent. Biggest groups not covered are the farm operators.

The new law also means a marked boost in benefits. For persons already on the rolls, the average advance will come to 77.5 per cent. Thus a typical husband-and-wife benefit will climb from $41 monthly to $75.

Social security is paid for by payroll taxes exacted from workers and employers; hence bigger benefits spell higher levies. As a starter, the government will take a bite out of the first $3800 of a worker's annual income, instead of $3000 as now. Later there'll be progressive hikes in the tax rate from the present 1 1/2 per cent to a top of 3 3/4 per cent in 1970 and after.

So by every fair test—its scope, its cost, its effect on the country—the new social security law is a major step.

Yet it's a step that was largely taken before the Korean war began. That conflict, and the threat it poses of further trouble in other areas, have dimmed prospects for the remainder of the president's social and economic program.

The key parts of this program, national health insurance and the Brannan farm aid plan, were already in serious trouble before the war came. The new defense outlook just about rules them out for a long time ahead. Indeed, so long as military expenditures must stay at record high peacetime levels, new social welfare plans of any sort seem destined to have a very low priority.

Safe driving practices and courtesy of the road will go a long way in helping to cut down the number of traffic accidents that are certain to occur over the long holiday weekend. "The Life You Save May Be Your Own!"

A Day Set Aside for Serious Contemplation

Here And There

According to the summary final season as submitted by Inez Rudolph, supervisor, a total attendance of 77,320 children enjoyed facilities at the six recreation spots during the ten weeks of the program. This was 16,990 more than were registered in 1949. Previous records make interesting comparison. Last year there were 60,330; in 1948, 57,641 and in 1947, 49,218. As would naturally be presumed Beatty leads in total attendance. Mrs. Rudolph says the activities offered this year were greatly enjoyed by the children. They included many kinds of games and contests. All of these were contested and final tournaments were held the last two weeks of the playground season. Handcraft also proved to be an enjoyable pastime. The display was held in Gray's auto store window. The day at playgrounds opened with a flag raising ceremony. Safety and cleanup clubs were organized.

Sandboxes provided much enjoyment for the small tots and the wading pool at the Crescent playground attracted many children from all parts of town. Sprinklers were also enjoyed by the children at the playgrounds fortunate enough to have them. Three new events took place during the season. They were the Indian Pow Wow at west side, mardi gras at Home street, car show at Crescent. Several weiner roasts were also held at various grounds. The pet show, doll show, hobby fair, bathing beauty contest and Huckle Finn day were held again, as well as Picnic Play Day which brought the playground season to a close. These events attracted hundreds of children to the playgrounds.

It is interesting to note that the picnic area at Crescent Park has been a very popular place with many outings held during the summer. In numerous instances picnics were held with playground facilities, instructors furnishing equipment on request.

Mrs. Rudolph calls attention to the fact that there is a ball diamond located in the vicinity of fourth and Laurel streets, with a suggestion that a summer playground also be inaugurated in that location.

Up to this point, this is a commendable season, from the viewpoint of the supervisor, and those who are associated with her, including S. H. Kuhre, chairman of the park committee of borough council, who has spent much time and effort in cooperating with the official and her staff. A discouraging and disappointing note is added to the picture in information received, not contained in the report, of depredations and thefts at the playgrounds, indicating that there are in the community ing in civic pride and honesty. We are told that a basketball has been stolen from the Beatty grounds, and a football from Lacy. Both were plainly marked when they disappeared and could easily have been identified before lettering may have been obliterated. It also is reported that some persons, evidently maliciously-incensed motorists, recently drove down on Beatty Field and bent over the metal posts that hold nets for basketball playing. The marks in the earth and the manner in which the posts were bent have no doubt, but the destruction wrought deliberately. It is stressing to have to admit that there reside in Warren persons so lacking in community interest that they would be a party to the destruction of anything that means so much to a town as its playgrounds.

This And That: Tom Finley, employed by Armour & Co. in Warren twenty years ago, with his wife and two sons, Kay and Paul, were callers at the office Thursday afternoon. Tom is now employed by the American La-France Co. in Elmira, N. Y. . . . It's a long weekend for the 'Times-Mirror' force. There will be no issue of the paper Monday, but business as usual Tuesday. Copy for Tuesday, should be in the office as early as possible, or showed in the mail slot in the business office door over the weekend. . . . The name of Nancy Ann Hesch, 202 Central avenue, is carried in a list of 32 girls who have been accepted in the new class at the Bradford Hospital School of Nursing, starting Monday, September 4. . . . We're grateful for the wonderful assistance received this week from Mrs. Charles Davis, who as Ann Walker, worked in the editorial rooms of the 'Times-Mirror' some years ago. She has been holding down the desk of the social editor while Mrs. Lyle Schuler is on vacation—and doing a swell job.

Morning Roundup: At the meeting of the Warren Lodge of Elks Tuesday evening a Student Aid Award will be made to Paul McGarry with appropriate ceremonies and the officers are hoping that his mother will be on hand. . . . Another large project has been started at North Warren with the digging of the excavation for the new auditorium that will be between the main building and the nurses' home. . . . You may be sure the World Series is just around the corner. Received a card in the morning mail from our old friend Emmett Jennings of Duracorn, N. M., postmarked Duracorn, Colo., indicating he is on his way back for the big games. Jan.

Other benefits of the new law will be explained in more detail in the next issue of this newspaper.

Bookmobile Meeting at North Warren Community House Is Enthusiastic One

are indebted to a subscriber associated with the Friends of the Warren County Library for the coming comprehensive report of county-wide Bookmobile meeting in the North Warren Community House this week. There was representation from the far corners of the county as well as communities close at hand in spite of storms, distances and conflicting engagements.

A large group was waiting to see an inspection tour of the bookmobile from Portage, Ohio, when it pulled up in front of the Community House. James Clelland, head librarian, and Mr. Robert Greene, the county clerk, had travelled 166 miles from Hiram, Ohio, for the meeting. From this community mobile library, with the largest book capacity in the county, were circulated about 100 books last year to a population about the size of Warren. The Friends of the Warren County Library are especially appreciative of this courtesy from a unit in a state outstanding in county library service. It was the first time such a trip had been authorized by the Portage County Library Board.

Mr. Clelland, on the panel provided to be an attractive, highly informative speaker, addressing the group with her personal capability and grasp of work. The high turnover in books and the intelligent flexibility of the program were a revelation to the support received. Malcolm Merchon, assistant superintendent of Erie County and president of the Erie County Library Board, stressed the standing needs in his county and the results obtainable from the mobile library. He mentioned improvement of reading ability as a main objective and testified to the general improvement of school studies through the extension of bookmobile service. One high moment of the evening was the introduction of Miss Mary True, of Erie, pioneer in county library development in this section. Miss True gave an appreciative perspective to the efforts to establish a long needed service. Warren County panel members gave strong support to the picture of need and the results obtainable for adults and children. Mrs. Robert Whitehill gave an effective contrast in her experience as state home economics advisor in Lycoming county where bookmobile service is established and in Warren county.

Mrs. Archie Hunter made a deep impression with her account of the results of a PTA book project with the counselling of a professional children's librarian in the past year at Irvinedale school and the acute needs there.

Rev. William Brooks spoke from his experience as pastor and teacher, also representing the Pomona Grange. He pictured conditions in his section several miles from a library of any kind where many families are without cars. The school angle was appreciated by the many school board directors and teachers present. But general service also received emphasis.

Mrs. Jean Lopez spoke of the benefit of such a service to all established libraries and reported from the recent findings of the national public library inquiry, advising the larger unit for efficiency and economy. Mrs. Kenneth Dunham as a parent advocated the bookmobile as a positive means of combating negative influences on the child and helping the parents.

R. L. White spoke from the civic point of view and Donald Dalrymple endorsed the program from the standpoint of the school director.

Glenn C. Elliott assisted in opening the question period and Mrs. Gerry Archibald explained the demonstration plan proposed by the Friends of the Warren County Library. Mrs. Olive Archibald Huff

Rev. Woods Family Farewell Party Is Enjoyable Event

More than 150 members and friends of the local church of the Nazarene gathered on the front lawn of the home of Mrs. George H. Miller, "The Willows", Rogers Mills, Tuesday evening to enjoy the program prepared by the Young People's Society as a farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Gordon V. Woods and daughters, Sharon and Ruthie.

The program was presented from the front porch, and opened with group singing, followed by a duet "Over in Glory" sung by Norman Huck and Roger McFarland. Mrs. Roger McFarland then read the book "Gordon Was a Preacher" written by R. F. Farland Mac and illustrated by Miss N. Y. and Mr. P. S., or in other words, Miss Joyce Mack and Mr. Meredith Phelps taking the parts of Rev. and Mrs. Woods with Stephen Rieder as Rev. Woods when a boy. The story and scenes proved most amusing and had the Woods family quite convulsed with laughter. The program proceeded with a trio number by Doris King, Barbara Sorensen, Agnes McFarland "God's Way My Way"; Rev. Stacey Barr, pastor of the Free Methodist Church, special speaker of the evening; solo, "Your Roses May Have Thorns" by Evelyn Miller; presentation of gifts—Judith Nelson to Ruthie, Helen Ruth Peterson to Sharon, Evelyn Miller for the church and Roger McFarland for the Young People's Society, with responses by the Woods family, including an original poem by Mrs. Woods. After prayer by Rev. Barr and the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds", a love offering was taken and presented to the departing minister and his family.

A passing shower caused consternation to the Refreshment Committee, but aside from those few moments, the evening was perfect.

Brown and Johnson New England Rites Of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Y. Brown, of Pittsfield, Mass., announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth E., to Russell G. Johnson, son of Mrs. Leonard Garvin, of Russell. The Rev. Philip Chamberlain, pastor of the Morning Side Baptist church, Pittsfield, performed the ceremony Saturday, August 26.

The bride wore white marquisette over satin, styled with fitted bodice, lace yoke and a full skirt ending in a train. Her fingertip veil fell from an orange blossom tiara, and she carried white roses on a Bible. Miss Lois Brown was her sister's maid of honor. Groomsmen were Robert Johnson, of Russell, best man for his brother, Warren Root and Burton Keeler, ushers.

A reception followed in the church parlors. The couple will make their home in Boston after September 9, both being seniors at Gordon College there.

School Plans Are Mapped at Dinner

Principals from the Warren Borough Schools and three staff members were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whipple at their home on Franklin street last evening.

Members of the group were Mrs. Marion Robertson and Miss Margaret Horan, school nurses, Gerald Newton, director of instruction in curriculum, and the following principals: Miss Frances Grosch, Dorothy Lincoln, Viola Flowers, Alice Anderson, Veura Schuler, Grace Bell, Edith Berkman, Herbert Harris and Floyd Bathurst.

Following the dinner, which was served by Mrs. Whipple and her daughter, Nancy, the guests met to lay plans for the coming school year.

was moderator of the panel. The main question of the evening was "What Can I Do To Help?" Mrs. Archibald stressed the importance of letters to the Warren County commissioners and resolutions as the chief immediate need. But the Friends of the County Library have had increasing offers which reached a peak this week, to help in their responsibility for buying a bookmobile as soon as county library service is authorized.

The Friends of the County Library wish to express appreciation for the use of the North Warren Community House, books and materials from the Warren Public Library, courtesies from Everett Stoke, the West Penn Oil Company, the Y. W. C. A., the McDowell Floral Gardens in Youngsville, the Warren Police Department and all committees who helped make the occasion so successful.

Special appreciation is expressed to the Warren Times-Mirror for cooperation given in the project.

Sheffield Couples Are Celebrating Golden Weddings

Sheffield, Sept. 1.—Three Sheffield couples have observed or will observe their golden wedding anniversaries this week and next.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian L. Rader were honored Sunday with a family dinner in Williamsport on the occasion of their anniversary which fell on Wednesday of last week.

The Raders were married August 23, 1900, in Williamsport where they are members of St. Paul's Evangelical United Brethren church. Mr. Rader came to Sheffield in 1932, where he was employed in the legal department of the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company with whom he had been associated since 1907. In 1940 he started his own insurance agency here.

The couple has four sons and a daughter, all of whom attended the dinner. Their children include Harold C. Rader, Akron, Ohio; Ervin L. Rader, Warren; Lester C. Rader, Clyde E. Rader and Mrs. Chester E. Crossley, Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lindgren quietly observed their golden wedding anniversary Saturday with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Currie and daughter, Catharine Saegertown, as their guests on Sunday.

No celebration of the event was planned by friends and relatives of the Lindgrens as Mr. Lindgren is not in the best of health.

The Lindgrens were married Aug. 26, 1900, in Jamestown, N. Y. They have resided in Sheffield since their marriage.

Mr. Lindgren retired 14 years ago from his job with the former Tionesta Valley railroad with whom he had served as yardmaster and passenger conductor. Both he and Mrs. Lindgren, who was the former Mathilda Carlson, are members of the Bethany Lutheran church.

Their golden wedding anniversary will be quietly observed Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. John Hedvall with no celebration to be held as Mr. Hedvall has a serious heart condition.

The Hedvalls, who both were residents of Sheffield at the time of their marriage on Sept. 5, 1900, in Jamestown, N. Y., have one son, Leonard, Sheffield.

Mr. Hedvall, who was 80 years old on March 19, has been employed as an operator at various glass factories all his life. His wife, the former Lottie Elmquist, was 75 years old on Thursday of last week.

The Changing Landscapes

HAROLD W. GEIGER
Soil Conservation Service

Hello, everyone. Here it is the beginning of September and the weather certainly has been on the dry side for the past few weeks. Our conservation farmers in Warren County have suffered the least, with their contour farming holding back most of the few scattered showers that they have had.

Conservation surveys have been completed for the farms of William Atkin's, near Tidoute, Harold White and Maurice Bloom on Swede Hill west of Tidoute. This information on types of soil, slopes and erosion was collected by the farmer with the help of Ralph G. Robert, Soil Conservation Service technician. The resulting survey map will be used by these farmers in determining the conservation practices needed on their farms.

John Boleratz started laying his on his farm near Corry this week. The purpose of the tile line is to remove spring seepage from the head of a large sod waterway which John built recently. Drainage terraces will be emptied into the waterway later this fall.

Construction work is about half completed on Hugh Sechrist's farm pond in Glade Township. Hugh is planning to run the water from the pond to the barn. Flow of water into the watering trough will be controlled by a float valve.

Work started on a 900 foot diversion terrace at the Rouse Memorial Home at Youngsville this week. D. A. Suppa is dozer operator. The diversion is being installed to divert a very large amount of surface water from the barns at the bottom of the pasture fields. This will be one of the largest diversions ever built in Warren County.

The Soil Conservation Society of America meeting at State College last weekend, which I mentioned in last week's column, was very well attended. From all parts of Pennsylvania, nearly 100 persons who were interested in conservation of our natural resources attended. The speakers represented various fields of the conservation work. The tours of conservation work on State Game lands and conservation experimental work at the College were also very well attended.

TEST FIRE

About 55 men from North Warren, Pleasant, and Sugar Grove fire companies responded to the fire practice drill held at Russell. The imaginary fire, supposedly in the middle of the town, was speedily and successfully quenched by the firemen who laid lines from Conewago Creek, the mill race and three hydrants. Coffee and doughnuts were served by the auxiliary after the demonstration. Due to an error on the note sent them, the men from North Warren were half an hour late in arriving at the scene.

ELKS' WINNERS

Leonard Abbott and Robert Kincaid headed the winners' list in last night's session of the Elks Bridge Club. In second scoring position were C. W. Smith and Ed Koebler, while two pairs, Dennis Cochran, W. Pearson, and Jeff Kline and Myer Kornreich, were tied for third place.

Fast-Moving Yank Tanks Help Recapture Haman

The newest strike on the roaring front was a Red thrust against the extreme southwest flank of the 25th division, defended by the 15th regimental combat team.
A mortar barrage preceded the attack and a little later a North Korean plane, in one of the rare appearances of the Red air force, dropped two bombs in the sector. Neither did any damage.
At least one tank was reported in the attacking force.
Youthful American soldiers pulled back from Yongsan on the U. S. second division front before a strong tank-led Red drive which pushed across the Nakdong river. These men, on the left flank of the second division, had retreated eight and one-half miles in all.
A. F. Correspondent Ben Price, who was with one of the last groups to pull out of Yongsan into the hills to the east, said the men who gave the ground came out tired but not broken. He said they were still in good spirits.

The Americans immediately dug in the hills east of Yongsan against the Red thrust aimed at cutting the main highway between the supply port of Pusan and the communications center of Taegu.
At a rising cost in men and equipment, the main Red punch was threatening the front's anchor city of Masan on the south. And in the Yongsan area, the push had reached within 12 air miles of the main highway from Pusan to Taegu, Allied communications and supply center on the central sector.
The Reds appeared to be making a supreme bid to wipe out the United Nations beachhead on the southeast corner of the Asiatic peninsula. Field officers expressed belief it was the final major offensive.

Address of Truman Tonight "Report to the People"

The president was also expected to make some mention of domestic problems and the belt-tightening which may be necessary because of the fighting in the Far East.
The speech probably will not contain any retorts to Republican critics. The White House describes it as strictly bipartisan.

ERIE FATALITY
Erie, Sept. 1—(AP)—Fifteen-month-old Patricia Fratus followed her pet dog into the path of an auto and was killed yesterday.

Some 50,000 Communists—a third of their estimated strength—were involved. This included five divisions, one of them a full armored division, making the push. Two others were in reserve to exploit breakthroughs.
Navy carrier planes joined U. S. Fifth Air Force and Australian fighters in swarming into the battle like angry hornets. But the North Korean attack ground ahead. The Reds swept forward through minefields and barbed wire.

The Eighth Army communique reported the attack as "generally contained," with the exception of the 25th division's extreme right flank—locale of the Haman action.

ent of sixth grade before becoming eligible for many prisoner recreational activities.
Many men finished the eighth grade and thousands took correspondence school courses.
Less publicized, but equally as important on the educational side of prison life was the system of discipline Ashe developed.
He gave the prisoners a plan under which punishment for any infraction of the prison rules became automatic—and inevitable. Under it, each prisoner knew exactly what his punishment would be before he broke a rule.

WIDOW OF CIVIL WAR VET KNOWN HERE DIES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1—(Special)—Funeral services in memory of 95-year-old Belle Coulter George, formerly of Warren, Pa., who died at her home here Monday, were held late Thursday followed by interment in Arlington National cemetery. Widow of Wesley George, Civil War veteran, Mrs. George was born in Indiana, Pa., later going to Warren where she resided for ten or twelve years. Her husband served with the 139th Pennsylvania Volunteers. Up until the end Mrs. George had vivid memories of the Civil War days, often telling about how she made war kits for Union soldiers. Her father, James Elder Coulter, was postmaster at Indiana when James Buchanan was president. Mrs. George, who will be remembered by older Warren residents, came to the capital from that city about forty years ago. At the time of her death she was the oldest member of the Martha Washington Chapter, N. S., D. A. R. She resided here with a daughter, Miss Carlotta.

Final Vote on Tax Legislation May Come Next Week

men a final vote won't come until the middle of next week.
This would delay the legislation beyond the week-end deadline set by the treasury if forms are to be prepared in time to make proposed increases in individual income taxes effective Oct. 1 as the bill provides.
The senate plans to recess after today's session over the Labor Day week-end. The house, which still must act on the tax bill, plans only two perfunctory meetings next week.
When it quit work last night, the senate was near an agreement to vote at noon today on the controversial excess profits tax proposals which have been blocking the legislation for a week.
But other senators said they planned to bring up a compromise omnifront mobilization bill and a presidential veto, both of which would have priority. The voting agreement was then withdrawn.
The first vote, which may come late today, would be on the proposal of senators George and Millikin (R-Colo.) to put off action on an excess profits levy until next January, but with rates enacted then made retroactive to Oct. 1 or July 1, 1950.

UNITED NATIONS EMPLOYEES MOVING FROM LAKE SUCCESS TO NEW HOME

BRITISH SAILORS BOUND FOR KOREA PASS AT BASE OF NELSON'S VICTORY

Copyright, 1950, by Acme Newspictures

LIVES WITH BULLET NEAR BRAIN—Three-year-old Evelyn Bell squeals with delight and hugs her doll despite the fact she's been in Pittsburgh's Children's Hospital since July 27 with a bullet in her head. She was shot and partially paralyzed while playing with a found pistol. Doctors hope to operate soon.

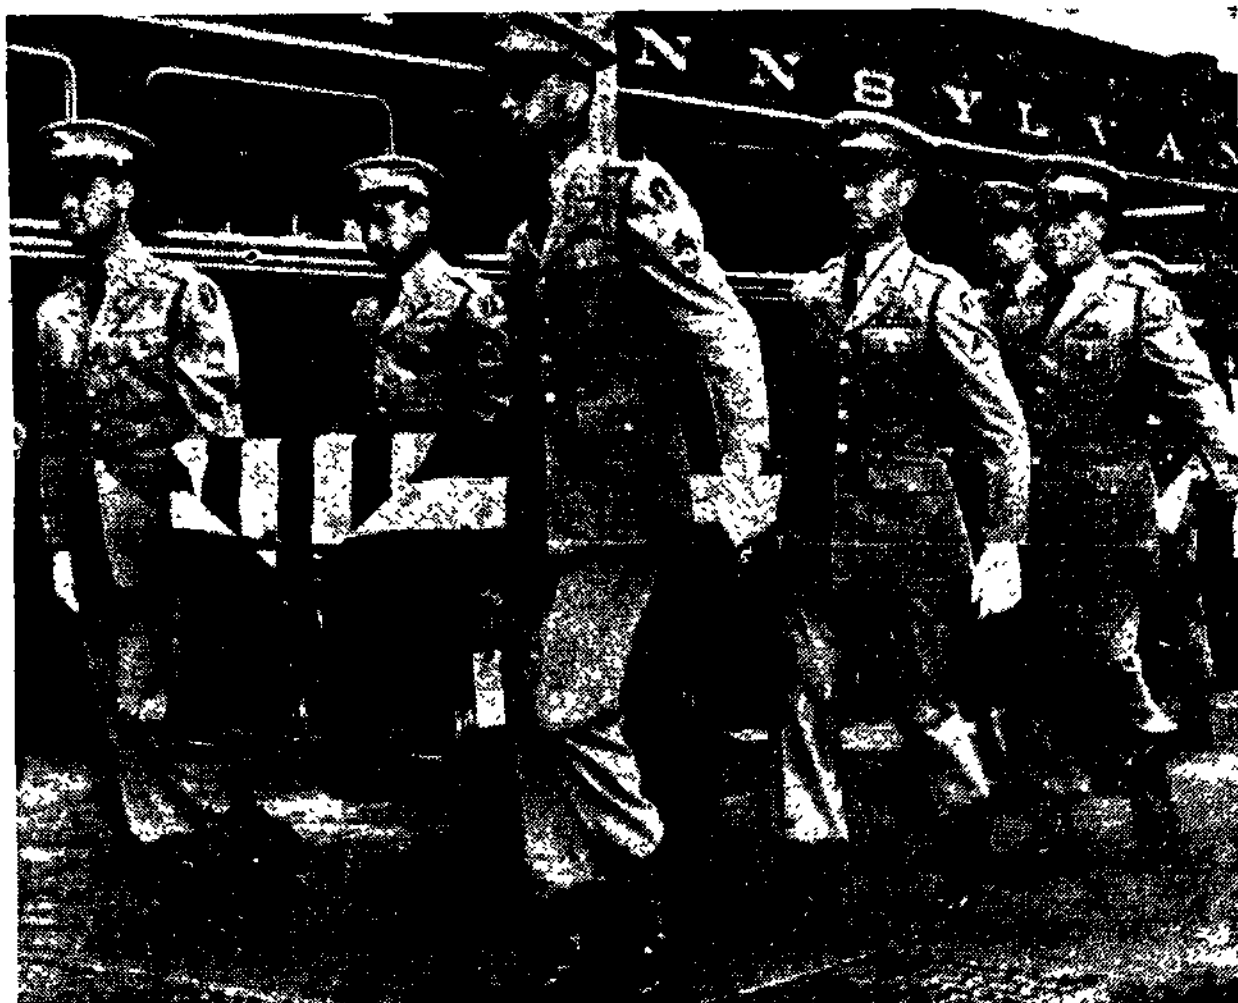

SEPARATION OF POWERS—This is the now famous Nakdong River, which separates the Reds from the red, white and blue in Korea. Looking south from an observation plane, the United Nations forces hold the territory on the left and the Reds, except for a few bridgeheads, have stayed on the right side. The highway at the far left is the main line between Taegu and the supply center of Pusan.

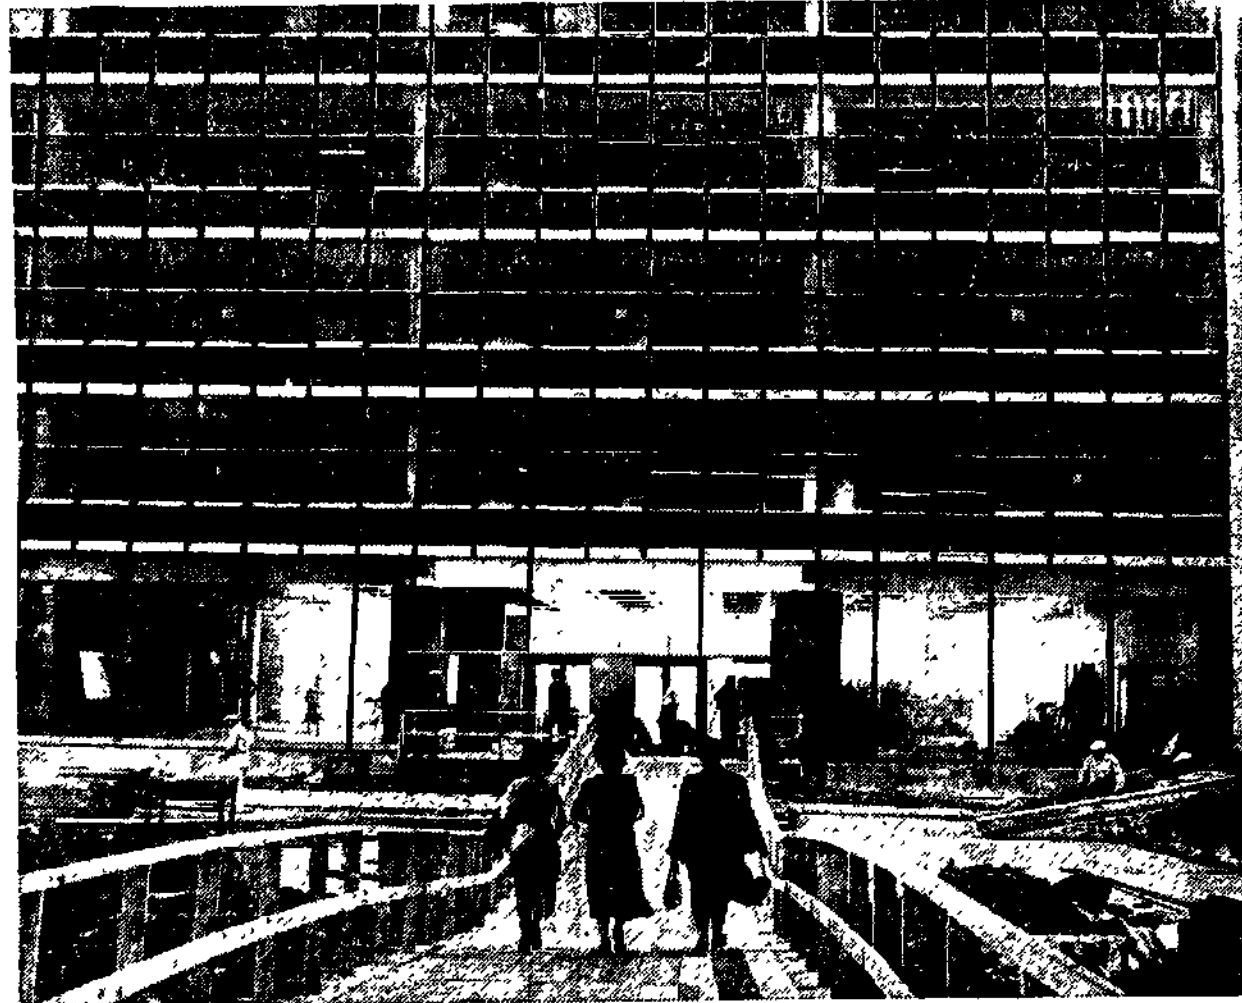

JAPANESE DOLLS AT THE FAIR—Japan proves it is ready for a place in the industrial postwar world by sending several celluloid playthings to the International Trade Fair at Chicago. Here, Matuko Sakai, 24, of Hilo, Hawaii, is shown demonstrating some of the 2000 dolls and toys on display at the Fair.

AERIAL LOGGING—Something new in the way of transporting heavy logs to the mill has been developed at Taihape, New Zealand. Here, a two and a half ton totara log is hoisted up to a cable carrier on the first leg of a trip over a 400-foot deep gorge. It's the only means of getting logs across the Rangitikei River.

ON HIS WAY TO ARLINGTON—A Third Infantry Regiment honor guard takes the flag-draped casket containing the body of Sgt. Ernest K. Turner of Berwick, Pa., from a train at Washington. Turner, the first enlisted casualty of the Korean incident to be buried at Arlington National Cemetery, was given full military honors.

MOVING DAY FOR UNITED NATIONS—Construction men stare as three of the 450 United Nations Secretariat employees stroll down ramp to the entrance of the 39-story, $22,000,000 glass and marble building in New York which will become the UN's permanent home. The move from the temporary headquarters at Lake Success won't be completed until January.

TWO HARTFORD HURRICANES—Featherweight champ Willie Pep looks more like a balmy breeze when compared with seven-foot, one-inch Elmore Morganthaler of the Hurricanes pro basketball team. Willic tangles with Saddler at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 8.

GLITTERING GOLD GAMS—The most expensive stockings ever made are these $5000 24-karat gold mesh hose made in New York for a movie. Vicki Janis' million-dollar legs look better than ever in them, 'too.

GOOD LISTENER—Fourteen-year-old Dietrich Paulus cocks an attentive ear at the fiddling of younger brother, Henry, 12. When the youngsters arrived at New York's Idlewild International Airport en route from Germany to Winnetka, Ill., customs officers wanted proof the violin belonged to Henry. Otherwise, it wouldn't be duty free. Henry proved ownership with a tune.

TURNABOUT—Reversibles are tops this season and this one is black broadtail backed with beige fleece. The cuffs are full and the collar high. The beige skirt matches.

IN THE SHADOW OF HISTORY—British naval replacements for men who have completed their tour of Far Eastern duty board the aircraft carrier, Warrior, at Portsmouth. The men are answering an appeal for more UN forces. In background is Nelson's Victory.

1950 LABOR DAY

MONDAY,
SEPTEMBER 4

LABOR is a MAN

Once a year on Labor Day we bring our thoughts back from the pleasure we derive from our material possessions, from our appliances, tools, and other work-saving, leisure-providing purchases, to remember the men who made them . . . the mechanic, the carpenter, the brick-layer, the skilled and unskilled worker. All these and thousands more are busy throughout the year helping to create the vast wealth for which our century is justly famous. To these men and women we offer an appreciative "thank you" on this Labor Day.

You Will Always Find A Friendly Welcome In The Churches Of Warren

Simon Peter: Sifted and Strong

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

THE key verse for an understanding of the Apostle Peter, and what he became, is found in the words of Jesus to Peter, recorded in Luke 22:31-32: "Simon, behold Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren."

Was it a coincidence that Jesus said, "Simon, Simon," and not "Peter, Peter?" Simon was the name of the disciple's weakness, the name of what he was; Peter, meaning Rock, was the name that Jesus gave him.

For Jesus perceived the strength that was in him beneath his weakness, once divine power had made him great. It was of this divine power that Peter himself was to write (II Peter 1:3), knowing full well what it had accomplished in him.

The prayer of Jesus, too, was significant. It was not that Simon should not fail, but that his faith should not fail. It is the failure of faith that marks the downfall of the man. And this is true in the lesser as well as the greater things of life.

The inventor who loses faith in his power to produce something new is done for. The business man who loses faith in himself and his enterprise is already on the way to collapse. The writer, or artist, who loses faith to put upon the page or canvas what he sees, has also failed. Faith is at the very foundation of all creative achievement.

There is one exception. It is when despondent and frustrated men turn to a power greater than their own, and in their very weakness are made strong. Paul tells of this in II Corinthians 12:9-10, but it was something Peter had not yet learned. He was boastful and confident in himself. He had not yet learned that it is in humility and in the consciousness of one's weakness that strength is found.

Proof that he suffered a temporary loss of faith lies in the fact that he desired Jesus only a few hours after boasting that he, Simon Peter, would never abrogate Jesus. It was as if he had suffered a blackout of the vision that prompted him to throw aside his fishing net and follow in the footsteps of Jesus.

No doubt, Simon had anticipated an earthly kingdom in which he was to have a place and power. He was intensely disillusioned when the soldiers arrested Jesus, his idol and Master. It was the intensity of this disillusionment that moved his lips to frame a denial. When a man's faith in goodness is destroyed, often he will turn with equal passion towards evil. Few stop halfway.

A reassurance of faith came to Peter the next morning when the cock crowed, recalling the prayer and prophecy of Jesus. Peter went out and wept bitterly. The disillusionment was over. And Peter began to seize the greater things that lay ahead.

I think I can see a way to do it and you can be sure that there's no one I'd rather give a trick to than to my favorite opponents. The 'favorite' opponents gloated in unison. They knew by long experience that George's gifts were no bargain.

West had opened the ten of spades. This seemed like a good lead at the time, in view of North's no-trump bid. However, it led to eventual disaster for the defense.

Maureen O'Hara and MacDonald Carey "COMANCHE TERRITORY" At the Columbia Theatre Starting Tomorrow

Universal-International's Technicolor western spectacle "Comanche Territory", co-starring Maureen O'Hara and MacDonald Carey, which opens Saturday thru Wednesday at the Columbia Theatre, adds in stirring fashion the thought-provoking and expert direction of Leonard Goldstein and George Sherman, producer and director, respectively.

The role of Bowie, famed for the two-edged hunting knife to which he gave his name, is handled convincingly by MacDonald Carey, while the part of the beautiful and strong-willed young woman who might have become his wife but for the fatal intervention of the Battle of the Alamo, is in the shapely and capable hands of Maureen O'Hara.

The outlaws, led by Maureen's brother, beguile the Indians into turning in their firearms, then attacking them. Bowie and his friend, Daniel Seeger, Indian scout, aid the Comanches in the battle. Maureen makes a last-minute switch in sentiment and also joins the Indian cause, saving them from annihilation by rushing a wagon load of rifles to them.

One explanation of the fire-walker's art is that the glowing coals are volcanic rocks, so hot they do not retain the heat although they appear to be white-hot.

Merchants and the Forge Meet In 2nd Series Game Tomorrow

Warren Merchants and the National Forge nine clash tomorrow afternoon at the State Hospital diamond in the second game of a series to decide the 1950 city championship.

Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

The Merchants will throw everything in the way of heavy artillery into the battle in an all-out effort to even the series. The Forge copped the opening round last Saturday by a slim 2-1 count.

The Merchants won the Sunset League championship and has knocked off several outstanding independent clubs in the district, including the power-laden Black Ash squad.

The Forge has stuck to strictly an independent schedule and has given a good account of itself, winning nine out of 14 games. Virtually all of the players also saw action as members of Sunset League squads.

If the Merchants win tomorrow to even the series, then a third and deciding game will have to be played next week.

The Forge nine also has a game scheduled for Sunday afternoon when they tangle with Ludlow at Wildcat Park in Ludlow.

This will be the third meeting of the two clubs this season. The

Gil Hodges Slams Four Circuit Blows Off Four Boston Hurlers

Gil Hodges, called by many the strongest man in the National League, has just about proved it. The husky Brooklyn first baseman hit four home runs last night to record a feat performed only five times before in major league baseball.

Hodges' wallop of four separate Boston Brave pitchers temporarily shared attention with the hot American League pennant race.

It happened at Ebbets Field as the Dodgers trounced the Braves, 19-3, to gain a half-game on the idle Philadelphia Phillies. The Phillies still lead the National League by six games.

In the American League, Detroit's stumbling Tigers blew a 2-1 game to Washington and dropped two games behind the American League leaders, the New York Yankees, victorious over Cleveland 7-5.

The five other major leaguers with four home runs in the record-book are Bobby Lowe, 1894 Boston Nationals; Ed Delahanty, 1896 Philadelphia Nationals; Lou Gehrig, 1922 New York Yankees; Chuck Klein, 1936 Philadelphia Phillies; and Pat Seerey, 1948 Chicago White Sox.

Hodges also equaled the major league record for total bases in a game—17. The big slugger came up six times, singling and grounding out when he didn't connect for the circuit, and drove in nine runs.

Hodges now is even with his entire 1949 output of home runs—23. Gil's fourth round-tripper made it 153 for the Brooklyn team, smashing the club's record of 152

HIGHLIGHTS on SPORTS

By LOU CARLSON

Two Seconds to Go

Billy Conn missed his chance to be the World's Heavyweight Champ by a mere two seconds in the "unlucky" 13th round in the battle with Joe Louis at the Polo Grounds in New York, June 1941, before a crowd of 54,487 fans who stood on their toes more often than they sat in their seats.

Louis opened the fight with a barrage of punches and kept it up for two full rounds. Louis blinked in surprise when the supposedly "frail" challenger, instead of crumbling to the floor fought back furiously. Conn took the next two rounds.

Louis followed three. For the next five rounds Conn gave Louis a terrific beating, and at the end of the 12th, Louis was in such a groggy state that Conn prepared to plant the haymaker in the 13th. That was Conn's big mistake. Louis made a quick recovery and sent Conn reeling with a terrific blow on the chin and knocked him to the floor. Conn got up just 2 seconds before the bell ending the round, but it was too late. The bout was over. Conn had been counted out.

Make no mistake, your car will make a "quick recovery" when you drive to Carlson's Service Store for a motor overhaul... and a thorough check-up of your car, inside and out, will protect it in hard driving conditions. Drive in today or phone 2545 for quick car pick-up.

Dragons Are Set For Intra-Squad Game Monday Afternoon

Warren High Dragons' 1950 grid season opens Labor Day with an intra-squad game scheduled to take place at War Memorial Field at 2:30 o'clock. The game also marks the beginning of Head Coach J. B. "Jake" Leidig's 39th season as football coach in Warren High School, making him the "dean" of coaches in this area.

A squad of 18 boys led by this year's four returning lettermen, Ed Shansha, Paul Shattuck, Dan Jackson and Bob Foley, will make up Leidig's first string to be matched against Joe Massa's second team for the feature game.

Two preliminary contests are also scheduled for 1:30 and 2 o'clock. The first pregame will pitting Joe Passaro and Bob Jewell's second squads against Loyal Briggs freshmen seconds, while the second contest will match the first strings of the two squads under the same coaches.

The four managers of the team, Edward Gustafson, Alfred Heubach, Chuck Irvine and Tommy Thompson, will also be on hand to assist their coaches.

Tickets for the game will be on sale at the gate with admission 50 cents for both adults and students.

On Saturday, September 9, the Leidigmen will tangle with the Corry Beavers, under Coach Lou Hanna, at home.

Ground Broken For New Auditorium at the State Hospital

Ground has been broken for the new auditorium to be erected at the Warren State Hospital adjoining the main building, north of the nurses' home. It is expected the structure will be ready for use some time in the spring.

This project will provide the institution with the largest auditorium in the section. Containing a basketball court, stage for plays and movies along with a chapel it will seat 1,228 for all activities excepting basketball, when there will be a seating capacity for 828.

The building will replace the present small auditorium which has a seating capacity of less than 400, and will make it possible for institution officials to entertain most of the patients at one time, at stage shows, concerts and movies, instead of the present arrangement which makes it necessary to repeat performances three times for the accommodation of those who are permitted to attend entertainments of that character.

The basketball court is of regulation size, and will be adapted for other athletic programs and entertainments.

Local Man Makes Reservations For 1959 Anniversary

Titusville Herald: A man made a date here nine years in advance yesterday.

He asked for a block of six rooms at the Colonel Drake Hotel to be used during the week of August 27, 1959, and got his name first on the list.

Why the hurry?

Because the oil firm he represents wants a ringside seat at the "biggest celebration any industry ever had anywhere!"

Ernest C. Miller, one of the owners of West Penn Oil Company of Warren, submitted his request in writing to David G. Agnew, manager of the Colonel Drake Hotel.

He asked for "suitable rooms for the entire week of the oil celebration which doubtless will be held in Titusville during late August of 1959, in celebration of the first century of petroleum and in memory of Colonel Drake."

The year 1959 will mark the 100th anniversary of the drilling of the world's first commercial oil well by Colonel Edwin L. Drake. On that day in 1859 oil flowed to the surface of a well in Oil Creek valley near Titusville.

The West Penn Oil Company plans an exhibit of considerable interest to oil visitors. It will be either at the hotel or some other suitable place.

The firm took part in the Diamond Jubilee of Oil, and had an exhibit at the Brunswick Hotel. A wholesale marketer of oil, the company operates some leases in the Warren area and has been in business since 1921.

The representative said he thinks the 100th anniversary of oil will be such a terrific one, international in scope, that it will be the biggest thing that ever hit Titusville. "It will completely overshadow the 75th," he said, "and you know what a celebration that was."
